MONEY AND STOCKS.

New York Financial Market. MEW YORK, April 21. - Money-On call continnee easy at 1@1% per cent., closing at 1 per cent. Prime Mercantile Paper-4635 per cent.

Ear Silver-109%. Foreign Exchange-Quiet at unchanged quotatations. Actual business is done at 4851/4@487%. Sale of stocks to-day aggregated 235,692 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna . and Western, 25,700; Lake Shore, 5,600; Northwestern, 32,300; New York Central, 5,380; Pacific Mail, 28,200; St. Paul, 5,400; Union Pacific, 42,600. Government Bonds were very strong, the registered 41/2 per cents, showing a gain in quotations of 14, and the 4s 14 per cent. There were sales of coupon 4s at 122%.

State Bonds were quiet and steady except some of the Virginia bonds, which are higher.

There was a moderate trading in railway bonds but the trading was very well distributed and prices are generally higher, although the gains in most cases are only fractional.

The European war news this morning was more war-like, and the stock market opened strong, and in the early dealings made advances of % to 1 per cent. over the closing quotations of yesterday. This occurred during the first hour, but early dis patches from Chicago confirmed the reports already received to the effec; that the railroad fight between the different roads leading west from Chicago was assuming very serious proportions, and was undoubtedly increasing.

The market closed on a slight rally from the lowest figures reached for many stocks, but at the bottom quotations from others. A very note worthy change in the general tone of the market is shown in the fact that its disposition is to be come dull and listless whenever prices weaken and more active as they advance, which is the di-rect reverse of the tendency for a long time past until recently. The total sales were 255,500 shares, of which St. Paul, Union Pacific, Northwest, Pacific Mail and Lackswanna contributed 77 per cent.

Tae closing prices this evening are irregular as compared with yesterday, with the heaviest de-cline in the Omahas. The principal break oc-curred shortly after midday. Northwestern went down 11/4 per cent. In the alternoon it sold off slowly, but rallied to and closed at "5" s. St. Paul, which was the most active stock on the list, rose in the early trading and then slowly but persistently declined throughout the day until it touched 60%, but closed on a decided rally at 70%, a loss of only % per cent. Northern Pacific preferred shows a loss of %. The strongest stock on the list was Union Pacific, which rose early to 49% and in the break in the afternoon yielded to 48%, but rallied to 49 and closed at 48%. Missouri Pacific is % per cent. higher, due partly to the announcement that all the litigation which can in any way raise the question as to the validity of the company's corporate existence has been settled. Louisville and Nashville is also up 1/8. The market closed with the following prices bid: 8 per cent, bonds......102 | | Guisville & Nash... 31% United States 436 8.112% Louisvile & N. COMMERCIAL.

Rather moderate activity characterized the wholesale trade, though dry goods are moving in a fairly liberal way. The grocery market is without important new features, though there is a slightly limproved demand, but prices are unchanged. Butter is less firmly held, and cheese is weak as before. Fruits and canned goods are easy. Fish are also easy. Eggs are quiet. Vegetables are beginning to arrive in large quantities.

GRAIN. Wheat-Prices are a shade firmer under light receipts, and sellers find ready buyers at full quotations. Futures show more activity. Corn-In good demand at slightly better prices,

Receipts only fair. More interest is seen in futures. Oats-Steady at quotations, and all grades cash delivery wanted at the prices named. The following table shows the receipts of grain at this point for the past twenty-four hours;

Produce Markets.

CHICAGO, April 21,-The wheat market was subjected to marvelous fluctuations to-day and the tendency was toward lower prices despite a large decrease in visible supply, a sharp decline in English consols and warlike rumors. The weakness was ascribed in the main to reports of warm weather through the winter waeat region, tavorable to the growing crops. The market opened excited with prices 34% chigher than the highest figures of yesterday, but liberal offerings of long wheat caused a quick decline of 1% 2c. With some slight fluctuations prices rallied 1@134c on more warlike news, fluctuated and closed 3c higher than yesterday. The afternoon board was characterized by weakness and the market sold off a cent from the top. In an apparent disbelief that the news from London predicted war, but it contended that the full tenor of the dispatches was not appreciated in time to have an effect upon the course of prices. There was only a fair amount of speculation in corn and the prevailing tone was one of weakness, prices sveraging lower. The May option early sold off 136c, while the other futures declined only 36c. The market reacted toward the close of the regular board and closed %@%c under yesterday. Another decline followed in the afternoon. F. D. Curtis in Rural New Yorker.

There is a difference in the dispositions of hogs. All hogs are not alike either in temper, in physical development, appetite or ability to digest food. It is well to know these facis. The differences in most of these respects may be known by the looks of the animals, their expression, form of body and action. Some are nervous and timid and require very gentle treatment. Some are delicate in structure, and this delicacy carries with it a delicate appetite. Different breeds represent these characteristics quite markedly. The circumstances connected with their rearing have a decided effect in producing peculiarities in pigs, and they are also trans mitted in the blood. These of a quiet disposition are always preferable, for the obvious reason that it is less trouble to take care of them, and they do not wasts food by useless uneasiness. Some hogs are very "hoggish" and ugly. Such animals are found in every breed, and should be got rid of as soon as possib'a. A fighting pig should never be bred, neither is - Quiet; short clear, $6 37% 36 40; short ribs, $6 45 | it a good idea to raise progeny from one 36 50; short clear, $6 70. Lard-$6 90. Such pigs are too much trouble, as they have to be fassed over and constantly looked after, or they will not do well. A successful breeder must observe the peculiarities of his pigs and regard them carefully. Some pigs are naturally inclined to be constipated, and will make poor stock animals, as the progeny will inherit these peculiarities, and be subject to piles and kindred disorders. Some pigs are quick to perceive things and ways, and others are stupid and contrary. Some are wilder and more unmanageable than others. All these differences can be distinguished, and may be noticed by an observing breeder who has enough enthusiasm and interest in the business to take the trouble.

motherly appearance which she evinces even when quite young. There is a great deal in the physiognomy of a pig. This is not an esthetical idea, but a clear cut, practical one. The breeders should be selected on account of brains as well as body. An intelli-gent pig is worth more than a mild or stupid one. These characteristics are manifested in these ways-to-wit: A will sow will trample on her young, and, when nursing, spring up at every little roise. A stupid one, lacking sense, will deliberately lie down on them, and stay there, and smother or crush them; while a gentle and intelligent mother will put her pige in a bunch with her snout, before lying down, and she will get down to them so slowly and carefully that she will never burt one. If one squals she is on the alert, to know the cause and how to relieve it. I have seen sows exhibit a sagacity and care with their young which were almost human. When a sow possesses these characteristics, she should be kept es long as possible; for such a one is not only a comfort, but very valuable. She may be kept as a profitable breeder till eight or ten years of age; the profit from her depending not altogether upon her age, but on the condition of her teeth for the mastication of food. If fed ground food she will do well several years longer than upon whole grain. The growth of the tusks in an old hog will often keep the grinders apart, so that they can not masticate grain. When this is the case they should be sawed off close to the jaw bone. An old sow always knows more than a young one, and if her edneation is good this fact may be turned to good account; if bad, the sooner she is got rid of the better. A bad example should be avoided among pigs as well as among peg-

Expensive doctor bills might be saved by a little prudence. Lyman Judd, Esq., of New Haven, Conn. was taken to his home in a carriage suffering excruciating pain from rheumatism. They thought he was going to be laid up for a month or more, and were about to send for a doctor, but were advised to try Athlophoros. Let him continue the narrative: "I commenced with it at once and took it until 2 o'clock the next morning. Then I fell asleep and slept the balance of the night, and awoke the next morning free from pain, and, in fact, my rheumatism was all gone."

Professor Shelton, of Kansas, plowed under wheat stubble last August to kill the late weeds. By October 1 the ground was densely covered with volunteer wheat, which furnished the stock good pasture until winter. Why not this in lieu of rye for fall and spring food.

Growning the cows is not often done, but it would add to their spirit and comfort, however, as well as promote cleanliness.

Life in the raris sewers, is possible, for a abort time to the robust but the majority of relined persons would prefer immediate death to existence in their reeking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a living sewer. But this is actually the case with those in whom the inactivity of the liver drives the refuse matter of the body to escape through the lungs, breath, the pores, kidneys and bladder. It is estonishing that life remains in such a dwelling. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" restores normal purity to the system and renews the whole being.
